Gentlemen:

I enclose title pages of two books which I have and would appreciate it if you will let me know if you consider these publications of any value. I have been told that these booklets were published in the latter part of the 17th century or the early part of the 18th century.

Yours very truly,

Manager

Dear Sir:

Your letter of the 26th referring to what you call 'booklets', deals with two elephant folios which are something in the nature of a drug on the numismatic market. The reason they are of small value, aside from their size, is because they were published before photographic reproduction became prevalent and the engraved reproductions are usually far short of accurate. I do not know of any one who would make you an offer for these volumes. I am returning your descriptions.

Very truly yours,

Secretary
